

COMPETENCY CENTRE & ASSESSMENTS

CREATING COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGE

Competency in key skills is an important component that is required when building high performing teams. ETS has an in-house competency centre which we use for our own consultants and is available for you to roll out into your own organisation.

It gives visibility into the in-house competencies that are already endowed into your personnel, and additionally gives them access to professionally constructed computer based training courses.

- For Managers—see which skills and skill levels are in your team. Access appraisal systems and disperse knowledge on the business tools in your organisation.
- For Personnel—access computer based training, documentation and take assessments to certify your skills gained on the job.

The administration can be out-sourced to ETS or handled in-house.
